

Get PCI online and on-demand via e-change. No waiting, no travel, no costly fees.

Changefirst's unique change methodology, People Centred Implementation (PCI®), is now available via e-change®, our online change application. e-change helps you apply the PCI process and principles to change projects in your organisation at anytime and from anywhere in the world.

Changefirst has combined change processes, tools, resources and education into a single online application that you can start using immediately without the need for costly workshops. No waiting, no travelling, no expensive hotel bills and its always available.

How does it work?

Using e-change is not unlike using a GPS system for change management. It has an easy to use built-in wizard which quickly guides both expert and non-expert users through the key steps required to successfully implement PCI within your organisation.

e-change is also customisable and can be adapted quickly and easily to meet your own organisational processes. Furthermore, you can tailor the work stream and its core modules to meet specific project requirements, and you can also customise the user interface to fit with your corporate image.

Benefits of e-change

Reduce costs: Maximise your resources by saving time and travel expenses. It's even hosted by us, so you save on server costs

Access: it's online, so it's available anytime, anywhere

Easy to use: the wizard identifies the change process and links it to the tools, resources and e-learning you require

Customisable: brand the user interface to fully integrate it within your organization

Immediately applicable: No downloads or installation required

“85% of change agents said that internal teams are more effective at delivering higher change results”
