

Build enterprise wide capability for your organisation – customised specifically to your needs

Delivering successful change is a key strategic issue for all organisations, and the evidence is that many are finding the going tough. In fact independent research by Changefirst with over 2000 change managers demonstrates that over 60% of projects fail to achieve their business case because of a lack of buy-in.

For many clients, their central aim is to develop a comprehensive and sustainable change capability right across their organisation.

Our teams of highly experienced change experts work with your employees to help them develop a deep understanding of the People-Centred Implementation (PCI®) methodology and:

- Deliver tailored, face-to-face workshops at a range of levels within your organisation
- Customise e-change, our online change application to your specific needs in terms of process, look and feel
- Integrate e-change with your existing activities around Six Sigma, PMI and Prince 2.

What We do

Changefirst has 15 years experience of working closely with clients to develop enterprise-wide capability. Our e-change® application is at the heart of our approach, however, we will build with you a blended programme combining both online and face-to-face implementation.

Benefits of our Enterprise solutions

Highly customisable – to the specific needs of your organisation and can mirror internal processes

Scalable and quick to deploy – blended on and offline delivery allow you to implement the PCI methodology quickly and easily across your entire organisation

Build sustainable change capability – we focus on transferring expertise and know-how to your employees

Leverage the knowledge of experts – our solutions are designed, delivered and maintained by change experts

Cost-effective – our solutions are highly cost-effective when compared to consultancy and pure offline approaches

“Over 90% of our work with organisations comes directly from referrals by satisfied clients”

A tailored solution – designed specifically for your needs

Our proven PCI methodology is at the heart of our Enterprise solutions and provides the structure, process and methodology that guides implementation to successfully deliver change in your organisation.

We typically deliver PCI through the design and delivery of a tailored solution that can include:

Blended solution

We combine the best of online learning with face-to-face training. This allows you to fully leverage our expertise and is specifically designed to embed the use of PCI and the e-change change application within your organisation at a number of levels. We offer four workshops, each of which are fully compatible with our online solution: managing change; the leading change application; thriving through change and e-change.

Application customisation

We can work with you to customise e-change to the specific needs of your organisation including adapting the 'wizard' to mirror your own internal processes and customising the interface to fit with your corporate branding.

Integration

Our solutions can be effectively integrated with Six Sigma and planning processes such as Prince2 and PMI, addressing the critical people issues typically missing from these types of processes.
